

STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP AND DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

(Lux Industries Inc. and SF Private Bank)

This Strategic Partnership and Distribution Agreement (this “Agreement”) is entered into as of the date on which at least one Phase 1 service is implemented and made available for production use, as mutually confirmed in writing by the Parties (the “Effective Date”), by and between (i) Lux Industries Inc., a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in the State of Delaware (“Lux Industries” or the “Principal”), and (ii) SF Private Bank, a chartered private bank organized under the laws of the United States, with registered office at [[SF Private Bank registered office address]] ([[FDIC / state charter number]]) (“SF Private Bank” or the “Local Partner”). WHEREAS, Lux Industries operates an open, jurisdiction-neutral technology, identity, payments, and capital-markets coordination platform (the “Lux Network”) intended to serve as a unified rail across the world’s communities — including but not limited to historically displaced and diasporic communities of African, Indigenous, Persian, South Asian, East Asian, and Latin American origin — by enabling licensed local partners in each jurisdiction to plug into a single, composable infrastructure on equal commercial footing;

WHEREAS, SF Private Bank is a chartered private bank with affiliated broker-dealer, alternative trading system, transfer-agent, and money-services-business licenses across the United States and Canada that holds, or is affiliated with entities that hold, the licenses and registrations set forth in Schedule 1, and desires to make those regulated capabilities available to a wider customer base through a coordinated commercial relationship with the Principal;

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to set forth binding terms governing their commercial relationship on a true partnership basis, with net revenue above documented costs split fifty / fifty between the Parties, subject to applicable regulatory requirements, approvals, and each Party’s supervisory and compliance obligations;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements set forth herein, the Parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE 2 — PARTNERSHIP STRUCTURE

2.1 Non-Exclusive Relationship.

The relationship contemplated by this Agreement is non-exclusive. Nothing in this Agreement grants any exclusivity, right of first refusal, right of first negotiation, or similar preferential right to either Party.

2.2 No Obligation to Implement Beyond Scope.

Except as expressly set forth in this Agreement and the applicable Statements of Work or implementation plans agreed in writing by the Parties, neither Party is obligated to implement integrations, product rollouts, or commercial programs.

2.3 Allocation of Regulated Functions.

All Local Partner Licensed Activity is and shall remain the responsibility of SF Private Bank and its regulated affiliates under the licenses and registrations set forth in Schedule 1. Lux Industries provides technology, identity, settlement, and commercial-coordination services, and does not perform broker-dealer, transfer-agent, ATS, banking, e-money, payment-institution, or similar regulated functions on its own account under this Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to shift regulated functions, supervisory authority, or examination responsibility from one Party to the other.

2.4 Affiliates and Third-Party Providers.

Either Party may perform any of its obligations under this Agreement through an affiliate or duly engaged third-party provider, provided that the engaging Party remains responsible for its obligations hereunder. SF Private Bank may rely on its existing licensed affiliates to conduct Local Partner Licensed Activity, and Lux Industries may rely on Simplici, the operators of the Zeekash Rails and the ATM Rails, and other technology and payments providers in delivering its services.

2.5 Platform Terms.

SF Private Bank's access to and use of Simplici.io, the Lux Network, SF Private Pay (if applicable), and any related services shall be subject to the applicable Platform Terms. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and the applicable Platform Terms, the Platform Terms shall control with respect to operation, access, use, data processing, information security, compliance procedures, and technical requirements of the applicable platform; provided that the commercial pricing and the 50/50 net-revenue split expressly set forth in this Agreement shall control unless modified by a mutually executed order form, platform agreement, or amendment.

ARTICLE 3 — COVERED SERVICES

3.1 Phase 1 Covered Services.

During Phase 1, Lux Industries shall make available, and facilitate access to and coordinate availability of, the following:

- (a) Simplici.io onboarding and compliance workflows, including digital onboarding for retail and (where applicable) accredited / institutional / elective-professional customers; identity verification; KYC; CIP / CDD; AML; sanctions and PEP screening; recordkeeping; and API-based and white-labeled deployment integrated into the SF Private Bank customer experience;
- (b) Lux Network integration, including identity, content-addressed audit, and (where applicable) settlement primitives used to record and reconcile activity arising from the SF Private Bank customer base under the Local Partner Licensed Activity; and
- (c) SF Private Pay PSP enablement as set forth in Schedule 2, pursuant to which SF Private Bank may offer its customers cash-in / cash-out, ATM, card, applicable local payment-rail, and on/off-ramp services using the SF Private Pay product stack, including the Zeekash Rails (zeekash.com) and the ATM Rails (myatmen.com), subject to applicable Platform Terms and required approvals.

3.2 Local Partner Distribution.

During Phase 1, SF Private Bank shall make available to its customer base, on a basis consistent with its regulatory permissions and supervisory procedures, the products and services produced through the Local Partner Licensed Activity, and shall coordinate with Lux Industries on go-to-market, customer onboarding, compliance, and operational integration matters.

3.3 Phase 2 Exploratory / Future Scope.

Phase 2 items may include additional jurisdictional licensure, additional venue or rail connectivity, tokenized securities concepts, and additional payment-rail integrations, in each case subject to separate diligence, regulatory review, approvals, and mutually agreed written documentation.

ARTICLE 4 — OBJECTIVES

The Parties intend that the commercial relationship under this Agreement will: (a) make available to SF Private Bank's customers the combined capabilities of SF Private Bank's licensed regulated stack and the Lux Network technology and coordination stack; (b) reduce onboarding friction, cost, and fraud risk through Simplici.io; (c) where in scope, enable SF Private Bank to offer SF Private Pay as a PSP for customer cash, ATM, card, and on/off-ramp flows; and (d) align Party incentives on a true partnership basis through the 50/50 net-revenue split set forth in Article 5.

ARTICLE 5 — COMMERCIAL TERMS

5.1 Net-Revenue Split (50 / 50 Above Documented Costs).

The Parties intend a true partnership economic. On all gross revenue earned by either Party (or its affiliates) that is attributable to the combined activity contemplated by this Agreement — including (a) revenue earned by Lux Industries in respect of SF Private Bank’s flow on the Lux Network or associated services and (b) revenue earned by SF Private Bank in respect of Local Partner Licensed Activity conducted for customers acquired, retained, or serviced in connection with the partnership — (such gross revenue, “Gross Partnership Revenue”), the Parties shall first deduct the Documented Costs (defined below) reasonably and directly incurred by either Party in producing such revenue, and shall then split the remaining amount (the “Net Partnership Revenue”) fifty percent (50%) to Lux Industries and fifty percent (50%) to SF Private Bank.

5.1.1 Documented Costs — Definition.

“Documented Costs” means out-of-pocket third-party costs and directly-attributable internal costs of either Party reasonably and directly incurred in producing Gross Partnership Revenue, supported by invoices, ledger entries, or other reasonable documentation, and limited to the following categories: (a) execution, clearing, settlement, custody, and regulatory transaction fees charged by exchanges, clearing agencies, regulators, or SROs; (b) market-data, connectivity, and order-routing costs directly used for the relevant flow; (c) per-customer onboarding usage costs actually paid for verifying the underlying customer (e.g., Simplici.io per-check fees); (d) payment-rail, interchange, ATM-network, and KYC pass-through costs directly attributable to the relevant transactions; (e) the per-Internal-User Simplici.io subscription cost actually paid; and (f) other categories the Parties may agree in writing. General overhead, marketing, salaries of personnel not directly assigned to the partnership flow, taxes on income, cost of capital, and any cost not reasonably and directly attributable to producing Gross Partnership Revenue are excluded from Documented Costs.

5.1.2 Books, Reconciliation, and Audit.

Lux Industries shall maintain a complete books-and-records ledger of Gross Partnership Revenue and Documented Costs on a per-transaction basis, and shall deliver a monthly statement to SF Private Bank within fifteen (15) business days of each calendar month-end showing, for the prior month, Gross Partnership Revenue, Documented Costs by category, Net Partnership Revenue, and the resulting 50/50 split. SF Private Bank shall reciprocally report any Gross Partnership Revenue earned directly by SF Private Bank or its affiliates that is in scope under §5.1, together with directly attributable Documented Costs, on the same monthly cadence. Either Party shall have the right, no more than twice per calendar year and on thirty (30) days’ prior written notice, to audit the other Party’s books and records at its sole expense (or, if the audit discloses an underpayment of more than five percent (5%) for the audited period, at the expense of the underpaying Party).

5.1.3 Settlement.

The Parties shall net the monthly statements and shall remit the resulting balance in respect of each calendar month by wire transfer of immediately available funds within thirty (30) days after delivery of the monthly statements, to the account designated by the receiving Party in writing.

5.1.4 Eligible Flow; Exclusions.

Gross Partnership Revenue excludes (a) revenue from proprietary trades or principal positions of either Party that are unrelated to partnership flow, (b) revenue from third-party flow not associated with SF Private Bank or with the partnership contemplated by this Agreement, and (c) any specific revenue streams the Parties agree in writing to exclude.

5.2 Customer Markup Rights.

SF Private Bank may charge additional spread, commission, or other pricing to its customers in respect of products produced through the Local Partner Licensed Activity, and SF Private Bank shall retain one hundred percent (100%) of such customer-facing markups, subject to applicable law and SF Private Bank's policies. Such customer-facing markups are not part of Gross Partnership Revenue and are not subject to the 50/50 split.

5.3 Simplici.io Subscription Pricing.

SF Private Bank shall subscribe to Simplici.io and pay subscription fees to Lux Industries, or such affiliate as Lux Industries designates in the applicable invoice, Order Form, or Platform Terms.

No such services are included in the Phase 1 scope, and no such services shall be offered, integrated, launched, or made available unless and until the applicable parties enter into a separate definitive written agreement and complete all required regulatory, compliance, operational, vendor, customer documentation, and platform review.

ARTICLE 9 — REGULATORY COMPLIANCE

9.1 Independent Regulatory Responsibility.

Each Party retains sole responsibility for its respective regulatory obligations. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to require SF Private Bank to perform technology-platform functions on behalf of Lux Industries, or to require Lux Industries to perform Local Partner Licensed Activity on behalf of SF Private Bank.

Either Party may terminate this Agreement for convenience upon ninety (90) days' prior written notice to the other Party.

11.3 Effect of Termination; Survival.

Upon termination, the Parties shall settle any accrued but unpaid Net Partnership Revenue under §5.1 and SF Private Bank shall pay all accrued and unpaid platform fees through the effective date of termination. The provisions that by their nature survive, including confidentiality, data protection, accrued revenue-share obligations, and indemnification, shall survive.

ARTICLE 12 — CONFIDENTIALITY

12.1 Confidential Information.
